

SMALL BATCH COLLECTION KAALGAT STEEN 2015

The Small Batch Collection wines are made in miniscule quantities and allow us to explore various winemaking techniques, grape varieties and vineyards. Sometimes it's about pushing the winemaking boundaries and sometimes it's all about figuring out the best way to capture the pure essence of a specific vineyard. The lessons we learn when making these wines are applied to our general vineyard and winery strategies. The Kaalgat Steen (meaning naked Chenin Blanc in Afrikaans) is the most "natural" expression of a single vineyard that we could come up with. Grapes were fermented with the skins intact and no additions, other than a small amount of SO₂ prior to bottling, were made to the resulting wine.

VINEYARDS

Our vineyards lie on the south western edge of the Paarl region. The climate is Mediterranean - i.e. cold, wet winters and dry summers. Soils are a combination of decomposed granite and Malmesbury shale.

Grapes were sourced from a 33 year old, dry-farmed bush vine vineyard. In order to optimize the influence of terroir all our vineyards are managed according to organic principles.

VINIFICATION

Grapes were hand-picked and fermented "whole-bunch" in an open-topped tank for 5 days. No additions of yeast, tartaric acid, Sulphur dioxide (or anything for that matter) were made to the must. Grapes were pressed after 5 days. Bottled after 11 months maturation in an old barrel. A small amount of Sulphur dioxide was added to the wine prior to bottling.
